

CoinDesk Indices Announces CCIX and CADLI Renaming

July 23, 2026: CoinDesk Indices announces the renaming of the CCData Aggregated Index (“CCIX”) to CoinDesk Benchmark Direct Rates (“CBDR”) and the CCData Adaptive Diversified Liquidity Index (“CADLI”) to CoinDesk Composite Market Rates (“CCMR”). CBDR coverage will then be realigned to support only regulated pairs.

1. Product Renaming

The following products will be renamed effective September 1, 2026:

Current Name	Ticker	New Name	New Ticker
CCData Aggregated Index	CCIX	CoinDesk Benchmark Direct Rates	CBDR
CCData Adaptive Diversified Liquidity Index	CADLI	CoinDesk Composite Market Rates	CCMR

The maintenance, review and underlying data quality standards of these products remain unchanged, with CBDR to be incorporated into the CoinDesk Benchmark Rate methodology prior to September 1, 2026.

Existing API instruments and markets will remain unchanged until further notice. Clients will be informed in advance of any changes to API endpoints.

2. Coverage Realignment — CoinDesk Benchmark Direct Rates (“CBDR”)

Effective January 1, 2027, CoinDesk Benchmark Direct Rates (“CBDR”) will be limited to Benchmark Family pairs only¹, reflecting the regulated nature of these rates. Pairs currently published under CCIX that fall outside the Benchmark Family will no longer be maintained or calculated as of January 1, 2027.

Clients requiring rates for non-Benchmark Family pairs will need to migrate to using CoinDesk Composite Market Rates (“CCMR”)². For questions or to discuss available alternatives, please contact indexsales@coindesk.com.

¹ Benchmark Family pairs are defined in the CCIX Methodology, available here. The current list of Benchmark Family pairs and non-Benchmark Family CCIX pairs is available here. This list will be updated each month following the scheduled monthly review. On Jan 1, 2027, all non-Benchmark Family pairs will be discontinued.

² The CCMR methodology is available here and will be updated to reflect the new name prior to September 1, 2026.

Following the renaming, CoinDesk Indices will offer three families of regulated benchmark rates:

- CoinDesk Benchmark Rates (“CBR”): regulated spot and settlement rates denominated in USD for the largest and most liquid digital assets, incorporating /USD and /USDC pairs from a curated set of top-tier exchanges.
- CoinDesk Benchmark Extended Rates (“CBER”): regulated spot and settlement rates denominated in USD for a broader set of digital assets, incorporating /USD, /USDC, and /USDT pairs from top-tier exchanges.
- CoinDesk Benchmark Direct Rates (“CBDR”): regulated direct pair spot rates quoted in their native traded currency.

The CoinDesk Benchmark Methodology can be found here.
